LORD HOWE ISLAND

“Leanda-Lei” is a modern new building, centrally situated in an elevated position, with a glorious clear view of the Lagoon and mountains and close to the Hall, shops, Post Office, Bowling Green and Recreation Ground.

The proprietor, well-known Island identity, Mr. Roy Wilson, has been associated with the tourist business all his life and looks to the guests’ every need and comfort for an enjoyable holiday.

There is accommodation for 34 guests at “Leanda-Lei.” Each spacious bedroom has large windows facing the Lagoon, and an unsurpassable view. Built-in furniture and 240 volt power-points are in every room.

“Leanda-Lei” has an indoor septic system, and ample fresh water is available from the automatic hot and cold showers.

The cuisine is excellent, and there is an abundance of fresh milk, cream, fish, poultry and pork. Most fruits and vegetables are locally produced.

The five acres surrounding the house abound in tall shady palms and colourful Oleander hedges, and it was from these that the name “Leanda-Lei” was derived. Prior to departure, guests are presented with a lei of Oleander blooms, which they throw into the water before entering the flying boat. According to an old Island legend, if the lei floats back to shore, its owner will return to Lord Howe.

Play!

Relax!

Swimming in the blue crystal waters of the Lagoon, "shooting" the long, rolling breakers, snorkling, aquaplaning, hiking, mountain climbing, bicycle riding and tennis give endless pleasures to charm away every hour.

Reefing is another popular pastime. At low tide, the visitor can explore the southernmost coral reef in the world. There is endless fascination fossicking in coral pools for shells, sea creatures and anemones that dwell around the reef. Glass-bottomed boats are also available.

The 30ft. cruiser "Viking II" is used for fishing, cruising, trips around the Island and visits to the Admiralty Islets, which abound in bird life. The amateur, as well as the ardent angler, can seek the thrill of catching big fish which can be seen in the clear tropical waters.

People of all age groups are catered for at "Leanda-Lei." Those who like a quiet, restful holiday can relax in this semi-tropical paradise, away from the noise and worry of the city, while for the "young at heart" there is a continuous round of entertainment.

Films are screened in the local hall twice a week and dances on other nights at the Bowling Club, R.S.L. or Hall.

The Recreation and Lounge rooms at "Leanda-Lei" afford ample space for dancing, games, etc., and contain piano and record-player.

Informal Wear

To enable you to enjoy a happy and carefree holiday, there is no undue formality at "Leanda-Lei." For daytime, shorts and sports clothes, while "after sundown" light suits or sports suits for men and light frocks for ladies are the usual dress.
